

Fred Kuhn Gets Long Sentence

Lad Wanted in Astoria Given Three and One-half Years by Portland Court.

The authorities of Clatsop county are anxious to again get Fred Kuhn into their custody, but the man has just been given a penitentiary sentence at Portland. Kuhn is about 19 years of age and more than a year ago was arrested for larceny from a dwelling. He was employed at Locksley Hall, Seaside, and roomed with a man who worked at the hotel. One morning he rose early and helped himself to some money belonging to the man, but was detected and arrested. At the trial his guilt was clearly proved. On account of the youth of the lad, Judge McBride agreed to suspend sentence during good behavior. Kuhn promised faithfully that he would thereafter behave himself and seemed very grateful to the authorities for their consideration.

His promise was no sooner made than broken, however, and after Kuhn left Astoria he commenced his misdoings again. He went over to Washington and his unlawful acts resulted in his arrest. Half a dozen times he was in trouble, and at Portland recently he was arrested for forgery. He was tried before Circuit Judge Cleland and found guilty. Yesterday he was brought into court for sentence and given three and one-half years in the penitentiary at hard labor. When the court pronounced sentence Kuhn shrugged his shoulders and smiled faintly, evidently having expected a much longer term.

In the circuit court this morning Judge McBride issued a bench warrant for Kuhn, whose misdeeds have filled the local authorities with a desire to secure custody of the lad and mete out the punishment to him that his Clatsop county career justifies. However, the sentence pronounced by the Portland court places him beyond the reach of the local authorities. At Portland Kuhn forged the name of Louis Dunsbacher to a certificate of deposit for $50 on the Merchant's National bank.

Entertainment of High Order

Convent of Holy Names Furnishes 'Delightful Evening at Fishers'.

The entertainment given by the Convent of the Holy Names delighted a large audience last night. The opera house was well filled, as it always is when an entertainment by the convent is announced. The young ladies and children on the stage showed perfect training, both in dramatic work and in the musical part of the program. Perhaps the most unique number on the program was an operetta, "The Tables Turned," in which Santa Claus is made the recipient of a Christmas present in the shape of a real live youngster, taken out of a capacious stocking. This unusual state of affairs was brought about by two grateful children, lost in the woods, assisted by a number of kind-hearted fairies. "Gertrude's Triumph," a drama in three acts, was another excellent feature of the evening. The orchestra of young ladies played delightfully; the several numbers being received with warm applause.

The entertainment was an assured success from start to finish, and those fortunate enough to be present were loud in their praise of the finished and artistic showing made.

Wives who are puzzled over what to give their husbands for Christmas presents can find a solution of the question by calling at W. Madison's, where they can find not alone fine cigars put up in fancy boxes of any size, but also something else that no cigar smoker should be without, namely, cigar moisteners. Every lover of a good cigar who keeps a box at his home will appreciate the advantage of possessing a cigar moistener. Give your husband or sweetheart one and see how pleased he will be.

All of Wise's customers who have bought $10 worth of goods or over since June 1, 1903, who have not as yet received their numbers are requested to secure them before the drawing for four first-class round-trip tickets to the world's fair at St. Louis. The drawing will take place at Ford & Stokes' hall on January 14, at which time Wise's customers will be given a masquerade ball.

A Costly Mistake.

Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is the price of a mistake, but you'll never be wrong if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills for dyspepsia, dizziness, headache, liver or bowel troubles. They are gentle yet thorough. 25c. at Chas. Rogers' drug store.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between W. L. Trullinger and M. F. Hardesty under the firm name of Trullinger & Hardesty has been by mutual consent dissolved. W. L. Trullinger retiring and M. F. Hardesty continuing in business. All debts and obligations of the firm up to and including the 15th day of December, 1903, will be paid by W. L.
